

ESTEBAN E. TORRES VILLAGE

14617 Ramona Blvd, Baldwin Park, California

Esteban E. Torres Village, in honor of the former congressman Esteban E. Torres who was a champion of Latino civil rights and political empowerment, provides 51 units of affordable housing for low-income families as well as survivors of domestic violence.

The new community will contain an estimated total of 6,362 square feet of space offered for residential services, recreational meeting space, meeting rooms, and staff office space. Common areas will include two courtyards, two central laundry facilities, property management offices, rooms to conduct social services, and private office space for the social services providers. Amenities offered will include an educational space for programming including lounges, a community garden, and warming kitchens for demonstrations. Social services will include mental health care referrals, education, employment, training and more.

The project features more than 5,693 square feet of passive open space such as the main courtyards, occupiable roof deck, and indoor recreational rooms. Outdoor amenities will include beautifully landscaped and quiet retreats. The outdoor space will also include BBQ grills for outdoor cooking and a community garden.

ABOUT THE CESAR CHAVEZ FOUNDATION: The Cesar Chavez Foundation mission is carrying on Cesar's life's work of uplifting the lives of Latinos and working families by inspiring and transforming communities through social enterprises that address essential human, cultural, and community needs. It does so by building and managing affordable housing; operating a network of educational radio stations with 1.5 million listeners and followers; building a just society by educating the hearts and minds of children; and educating and preserving Cesar's legacy while managing historical properties in Delano and Keene, Calif.
